Treatment for Ladies

DR. JULIA D. GODFREY
FORT WAYNE, INDIANA
Specialist in Diseases of Women, who has found wonderful Home Treatment for her sex and offers Free supply to every sufferer.

Give Me Just Two or Three Days To Prove To You Free
That There Is Quick
Relief For You

Twenty Years of Study Crowned with Success

As a result of twenty years spent in the study and treatment of diseases of our sex—twenty years of actual experience as a specialist in women's afflictions, I have devised a simple, easy-to-use home treatment that has produced truly wonderful results for women suffering from Female Weakness, Nervousness, Menstrual Disorders, Bearing Down Pains, Ovarian and Womb Troubles, Kidney Trouble and other common but stubborn afflictions. It has been successful beyond my fondest hopes and with it I have succeeded in curing hundreds of suffering sister women who had actually given up hope of ever getting well.

Many Ladies
Tell of Cures

Ladies who have used it say it seems to strike at the very seat of the trouble and that relief is felt in a remarkably short time. Many ladies who have suffered for years and had tried other doctors and medicines without results, say this simple home treatment acted almost like magic and that after using it a short time, they found themselves as well and strong as they ever were in their lives. Others whom men doctors said could never be cured without an operation, wrote to me as a last resort. They were almost afraid to hope, but have since written me letters of deepest gratitude, saying they are entirely cured, and saved from the dreaded knife of the surgeon. Many ladies, enthusiastic over the results, grateful for the restoration of their health and anxious for other sufferers to learn of the treatment, have asked to have their letters published.

See What These Ladies Say:

Extracts from a few of the hundreds of letters received.—Dr. Godfrey

"Your treatment has helped me wonderfully. I feel like a new woman now."
MRS. CLARA E. ROBINSON,
R. F. D. 31, Box 47, Cedar Springs, Mich.

"I cannot praise your medicine enough, what a blessing it is that women can consult with a lady physician. Your treatment cured me."
MRS. MYRTLE FLOOD,
Tomah, Wisconsin.

"How thankful I have been ever since your name entered our home."
MRS. MAGGIE HOUGAS,
R. 58, Marseilles, Ill.

"I cannot find words to express my gratitude for the good I have received from your treatment."
MISS BERTHA WOOD,
Somerville, Conn.

"All of my doctors refused to give me medicine, saying an operation was the only thing that would help me. In six weeks I was a new woman. It would be impossible to tell you how much my husband and I thank you."
MRS. HARRIET ELMORE,
Attica, Ind.

"I feel like a new woman. Your medicine is a wonder."
SARAH J. ALBURY,
Miami, Florida.

"I suffered untold agony with my head for 38 years and you have cured me."
MARY A. HART,
Anson, Texas.

"Thanks to you for my health today. I am truly your friend for life."
JULIA HARVEY,
R. F. D. No. 2, Box 60, Dorset, Ohio.

"It is truly wonderful. Today I find myself well and strong and hearty."
MRS. STEPHEN BOURNE,
E. Providence, R. I.

Very Steady.
Relative—Well, I sincerely hope you will be happy with him, Mandy. Is he a steady young man? Miss Mandy—Steady! My goodness, Aunt Judy, he's been coming to see me for more than eleven years.—London Punch.

The Modern Medium.
Modern Girl—If you really loved me all the time, why didn't you let me know?
Modern Youth—I couldn't find a postcard with the right words on it.—Judge.

Why I Make
This Offer

Being a woman and a mother as well as a physician, I understand a woman's troubles and can sympathize with my suffering sex, as no man doctor possibly could. I know there are hundreds of weak, sick and discouraged women to whom I could give health and happiness if I could only reach them. There are hundreds to whom I could prove within two or three days that hope is NOT lost, that health CAN be restored and women's diseases CAN be conquered.

They are the ones whose eyes I hope will see this offer—they are the ones who need my help and that is why this page is written and this offer made.

You Will
Sincerely Thank
Me Later

Write to me—send me the coupon below or write a note on a separate sheet telling me how you suffer. Let me send you a supply of my home treatment without a penny of cost to you. I will send it by mail, postage paid, in a plain wrapper. You will not be asked to pay for it or to work for it. You will be under no obligation to me but I feel sure if you will only get it and use it for a few days, just long enough to feel its wonderful health-giving power, you will thank me the longest day you live.

Try it, suffering sister, for your health's sake. I really believe you will say it is the grandest blessing that science has ever given to afflicted women. Just fill in and mail the coupon. Send it today if you can.

HELEN HARRISON IN CLASS PLAY

LaCrosse Girl Takes Active Part in Junior Prom
Functions at the University

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8. — The "prom girl" holds sway in Madison this week.

The junior prom, the annual social function of the University of Wisconsin given by the members of the junior class, began Thursday night with the junior play, "Nan," written by Burdette I. Kinne, a junior in the college of letter and science.

One of the principal roles was taken by Helen Harrison, LaCrosse.

The play is a burlesque on the athletic situation at the university. The prom dance will take place on Friday night with music furnished by Goldsmith orchestra of Chicago. The dance will be attended by more than 325 couples.

Look Within.

The things that are unseen are the true forces and substances of life—wisdom, love or desire, ideals. The things that are seen are ever changing for something better.

Therefore we look within for our peace and happiness, and we value a clear conscience above rubies. We value above loves, lands and honors that inner quiet, the well done of the universal spirit witnessing with ours that all is well, no matter what passes.—Nautilus.

To Have Smooth, White Soft Skin All Winter

(From The Woman Beautiful)

Does your skin chap or roughen easily in this weather, or become unattractively red or blotchy? Let me tell you a quick, easy way to overcome the trouble and keep your complexion beautifully white, smooth and soft the winter long. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercerized wax at the nearest drug store and use a little before retiring, as you would cold cream. Upon arising, remove the coating with sudsy water. The wax, through some peculiar attribute, flecks off the rough, discolored or blemished skin. The worn-out cuticle comes off just like dandruff on a diseased scalp, only in almost invisible particles. Mercerized wax simply hastens Nature's work. Used as required, it keeps the face constantly free from devitalized scarf skin and only the healthy, young-looking skin is in evidence. It's the best treatment known for weather-beaten, aged, muddied, freckled, pimples and all unbecoming complexion.

Some skins wrinkle easily in winter. There's an excellent remedy in a harmless wash lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. This will quickly eradicate every line.

WEBSTERIANS WIN DEBATING HONORS

Greatest Interest in Forensic Aroused at Normal; Debate Commission Government

The Websterian Debating society of the normal school took first honors in the inter-society debates which were held at the school this week. The Forum, the only girls' forensic club, received second place and the Eclectic club losing both contests is at the bottom of the list. Each organization had two teams which presented either side of the question. "Resolved, that the city of La Crosse should adopt a commission form of government." The Eclectic affirmative composed of Euler, Garder and Schlosser were defeated by the Websterian negative, Allen, Kuehl and Swancutt. The Eclectic negative, Davidson, Casterline and Sullivan were vanquished by the girls' affirmative, Misses Dickey, Julia Olsen and Agnes Torrance. The Websterian affirmative fared better with the girls, winning from them by a 2 to 1 vote. It was C. Robinson, Buehler and Alderman Schultze against Josephine Hintgen, Abbie Fauver and Miss Whitcomb.

This was the first of the annual tri-society contests in debating and great interest has been aroused in this form of forensics. The teams were coached by different members of the faculty.

VIROQUA, WIS.

Tuesday evening a party of young people belonging to the Bible Study class of the Methodist church held a meeting at the county asylum, in honor of the birthday of Supt. C. E. Butters. A large birthday cake was lighted by forty-five brilliant candles. All enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Seth F. Smith, formerly of Viroqua but who last lived at Sparta, died of pneumonia. Mr. Smith came to Viroqua from Sugar Grove twenty years ago and had lived here until about four years ago when he moved to Indiana. They moved to Sparta two years later where they lived until Mr. Smith's death. The remains were brought to Viroqua for burial Thursday.

Mrs. C. F. Dahl entertained the Bridge Club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Gena, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Weber is ill with pneumonia.

Leo Wilbur Stout, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Stout, passed away at a La Crosse hospital at 7:50 on the evening of February second. He died from a complication of diseases after more than a week's illness. A slight injury to the bone in the knee brought to the surface a disease of long standing but of which no one had known.

Leo was born in December, 1894, in the town of Liberty. Two years ago his family moved to Viroqua to give the children the education of the schools here.

Leo was a perfect gentleman and had a kind and considerate disposition. He was one whom we might call a home boy and he brightened the lives of others by his happiness. He was in the junior high school class when taken ill. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church at 1:30 p. m. and the remains were taken to the city cemetery. The high school sent large floral offerings as a last respect to their friend and classmate.

Henry Rentz has bought the old Bouffleur store in Springfield and the land on which it was located. Mr. Rentz will tear down the buildings, which were some of the first buildings of the country and will take the lumber to his farm for use there.

John Thayer and wife are looking over land interests in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. B. Richards are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Berkmyr of Indianapolis.

Miss Lola Johnston has left her school work here and returned to her home in Minnesota because of a general breakdown in her health.

Martin Hagen of Barron is visiting his brother, Dr. Hagen, of this city and also relatives in Cashton.

A. E. Smith spent a portion of last week in Madison attending a teachers' meeting there.

Mrs. Hage of North Dakota, formerly Millie Jefferson of this city, has been visiting friends and relatives in Westby and this city.

Rev. Barber has been taking treatment at a sanitarium at Madison.

Charlie Tate of La Crosse, was in the city this week.

Mr. Torger Fortney with a party of excursionists, left for Texas.

Mr. Alfred Sweger of North Dakota, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Sweger. This is his first visit here for five years, having taken up a claim eight years ago. Mr. Sweger is engaged in "dry farming" and his occupation has proved a very successful one.

The following marriage licenses have been issued: Frank Schaller of Hillsboro and Iona Davies of Ontario; Fred Schlicht and Irene Mundstock, both of the town of Hamburg; Carl Rund and Alma Skaug, both of Viroqua; Alva E. Strait of LaFarge and Nellie Nelson of the town of Webster; Segvart Olson of Christiana and Dina Gilbertson of Viroqua.

Miss Theodore Smey's sister of Minnesota is visiting here.

Arrowroot Jelly.

To make arrowroot jelly moisten two tablespoonsful of arrowroot in a little cold water and then add a pint of hot water to this and boil for five minutes, stirring constantly. This should be prepared in a double boiler.

FORMER COOK OF KING SUCCUMBS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Marie Casperson, for many years a cook in the household of King Gustaf of Sweden, when the latter was a prince, died Wednesday of pneumonia at her home, 357 Hope street. Mrs. Casperson was 76 years old.

The Thorn on the Rose.

In the old Bundeshof of Zoroaster we are told that the rose grew fair and thornless until the entrance into the world of Ahirman, the evil one. According to this ancient narrative, the spirit of evil became universal and not only man suffered thereby, but inferior animals, as well as trees and plants.

There is quite a difference between standing up for people and putting up for them.

MAN WITH DOG'S BRAIN RECOVERING

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 8.—The recovery of W. A. Smith of Kalamazoo, for a part of whose brain the dura of a dog's brain was substituted Wednesday, seems certain, according to physicians in the University hospital, where the operation was performed.

Smith was afflicted by abscess of the brain, and, when the diseased portion was removed, the dura, which is the outer membrane of the brain, and spinal cord of the dog was substituted. The physicians say Smith will not suffer inconvenience from the substitution.

IN ONE MINUTE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN—COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Stops Nasty Discharge, Clears Stuffed Head, Heals Inflamed Air Passages and You Breathe Freely.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; fullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, yawning and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous droppings into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear. O. T. Erhart, agent.

Tim Crossed the Waves.

Daddy's Bedtime

The Little Sailor
Story — Cat That Was Shipwrecked

SOME pussies have strange adventures in spite of the fact that they are fond of their homes and stick to them as closely as they can, so daddy told Jack and Evelyn.

"Tell us about a pussy that had strange 'ventures,'" Jack demanded.

"Very well," daddy answered. "There was a pussy at a cat show in New York city not long ago that had been shipwrecked."

"This pussy had been brought up on the ship which was his home. His name was Tim, and he was a good sailor."

"One night the wind began to blow and the ship rocked in the waves until even Tim did not like it. He went into the cabin, but there was no one there to stroke his back or pet him. Then he went down to the kitchen, but even the cook was not in. You see, it was a pretty bad storm, and the captain had every one helping with the ship."

"By and by the ship struck something that shook it so that Tim thought it would go to pieces. With a yowl he dived into a dark corner and waited to see what would happen next. Perhaps then he did wish he had been a land cat instead of a sailor cat."

"After awhile his good friend, the captain, came down off deck and called him. Tim crawled out and hopped up into his arms, where he cuddled down, meowing piteously."

"Never mind," the captain said, stroking the cat; "we are going to be taken off the ship, and you are going with me. I came down to look for you. When I quit my ship I don't leave even a cat friend behind."

"When they got on deck the captain tucked Tim under his warm coat so that he couldn't see what was going on. Then the captain got into the life saving machine, which looked something like a cradle, and the men who held the other end of the line drew on it. The cradle, with the captain and the cat in it, went out over the waves that were rolling fiercely and high as if to reach them."

"But at last they got safely to land, and the captain took Tim with him to the warm, nice house where he was invited. Everybody looked at the cat and said how well he had behaved and what a wonderful time he must have had."

"And when the cat show opened the people who held it begged that the little sailor cat who had been shipwrecked should be sent there for people to see. And I do believe Tim was looked at more than any of the aristocratic pussies who took prizes. And if there had been any prizes given for brave cats I'm sure Tim ought to have taken the first prize for behaving so nicely, as he was drawn to land over that fierce sea."

THE COURT HAS NOT DECIDED EKERN CASE

The circuit court decision in the Ekeran case, let it be understood, did not foreclose a victory for Ekeran in a quo warranto proceeding. It decided the broad general power given the governor to remove, but it did not decide that the power had been legally exercised in the Ekeran case. Its decision that the court would not review the governor's conduct in this injunctive proceeding was merely adherence to a rock-bound precedent. To what extent the court may review the facts and the evidence in the quo warranto suit likely to be brought cannot be said. The court may declare that under no circumstances will it pass upon the conduct of a co-ordinate branch of government other than in the matter of questions of law as distinguished from questions of fact. However, it is assumed by some able attorneys that in the quo warranto proceedings the court will listen to evidence competent to establish the fact as to whether the facts assumed by the governor as a basis of his removal order were properly assumed. The point is that, with Ekeran still in possession of his office, and with a court ruling limiting the authority of the governor to acts not physical, the merits of the controversy are still open.

Many of the newspaper stories published this morning tend to give the impression that the court sustained the removal of Ekeran. We quote from the decision:

"The cause comes within the rule of Ward vs. Sweney. Under the rule in that case THE COURT CAN NOT DETERMINE THE VALIDITY OR THE EFFECT OF THE ORDER OF REMOVAL."

AN EXAMPLE OF STATE CONTROL

The danger in putting natural resources under the control of the state was never better illustrated than in the case of anthracite coal. In a little pocket in the northeastern corner of Pennsylvania, nature planted the one big lot of hard coal to be found on our continent.

When men found it they at once ran to the capital of Pennsylvania for charters confirming for all time their private and exclusive ownership of this natural treasure, which soon came to be a household necessity throughout a great portion of our country.

And Pennsylvania, being an interest-ruled state, gave away those charters, freely, eagerly. It was the gift to private individuals of a power to tax not only the people of Pennsylvania, but all the people.

That tax is now being collected. You are paying it every time you buy a ton of coal. When the coal barons want more they charge more. And you have to pay it. Because you have to keep warm and your children have to keep warm and there is no fuel so convenient for warming purposes as anthracite coal. It is a tax from which you cannot appeal.

The men who got these eternal privileges to tax other men did not make this coal. God made it. And there is no proof beyond Baer's say so that He made it with special reference to them.

Yet only the state of Pennsylvania can step in to put limits upon their greed. And the state of Pennsylvania hasn't done this because, up to this time, they and their kind have constituted the state of Pennsylvania, politically speaking.

If that coal, which all Americans need, could be owned and regulated by the votes of all Americans, do you think that Morgan's coal trust would long be permitted to hoist the price of it any time the trust's stockholders got hungry for increased dividends?

In his various reservations, Uncle Sam has large quantities of natural treasure. He has forests, ores, oil, water power—the "white coal" of the future. It is right that these treasures of nature should be developed and made to serve the needs of the people.

But, with Pennsylvania's coal beds as examples before us, would it be wise to turn this property of all the people over to the states, to be fought for by the powerful combines which can summon strength from all the states when seeking unfair privileges in any one?

The rights of humanity are greater than the rights of a state. The welfare of all the people is more important than the enrichment of a few.

Let us be sure that the experience of this generation with the coal trust isn't duplicated in the next generation in the states which, beneath the misleading plea for "states' rights," are now clamoring for swifter development of forests, ores and water power.

Let us keep the control of God's gifts to the American people where the American people can reach it.—Wisconsin State Journal.

FOR PERSONAL JUSTICE AND PUBLIC SERVICE

The action of the state senate in exonerating Herman L. Ekeran from charges made against him by Governor Francis E. McGovern was an act of simple justice. Mr. Ekeran has been in politics for years, and even among his friends it was assumed that the governor's charges were probably founded upon a just cause, for what more natural than that Mr. Ekeran, entering the civil service, should maintain his old interest and activity in current politics.

But the evidence shows that this was an unwarranted assumption, and that Mr. Ekeran had done no wrong. The evidence showed that the governor had declared he would remove him before the alleged offense was committed, and that in doing so the executive had counseled with the head of another commission whose participation in the conversation was as much "political activity" as was Ekeran's friendly attitude toward Johnson. The necessity of the hearing to the enactment of justice was due to the fact that in no court proceedings could the evidence favorable to Ekeran, which the governor had declined to hear, be made part of a public record.

The really important thing that may come out of the hearing is some law that will operate to limit the executive's power of removal so that he must show just cause to sustain his action. Such a law is demanded both in the interest of personal justice and public service.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

My Angeline
I once adored a simple girl, her name was Angeline.
She was a pretty country miss, I wished she could be mine.
I took her to the huskin' bees and when I had a chance
I put my arm around her waist and asked her for to dance.

She said then honeyed words to me when she sat on my knees.
She made me think the moon, by jing, was made of full cream-cheese.
She said she dearly loved to cook and bake and sew and scrub.
And then is when some good friend should have hit me with a club.

As I have said, she was a simple miss, my Angeline—
That is to say, she was when she consented to be mine.
The wedding it was beautiful, the music was immense,
For pa-in-law, he staged the thing regardless of expense.

As soon as we got married she forgot just how to cook.
But sat around all day and read an Agnes Fleming book.
She couldn't find the time to bake or sweep or sew or scrub.
I had to get a hired girl to rattle with the grub.

My Angeline, the country lass, is ketchin' on for fair.
She has to have a woman come each day and fix her hair.
She cannot trim her finger nails, she thought she can't endure,
And so three times a week she has to have a manicure.

She's got a lot of female help a-bagin' around the place;
She's got a gal to book her dress and one to rub her face.
I thought I'd picked a cheap help-meet, it is enough to vex.
Although she was a simple lass, she has grown quite complex.

Pat at Sea
Pat was strolling along the quay-side as a big ship was about to sail.
"Sure," said Pat to the captain, "could you find me a job?" "Just the man I want," said the captain, and so Pat joined the ship for the first time in his life. It was a fine night and they were in mid-ocean. The captain all at once noticed a man fall overboard and shouted to Pat: "Throw a buoy overboard." Pat seized a bright-eyed youngster standing by and threw him into the sea. "I did not mean that boy! I meant a cork buoy." "Sure," said Pat, "how do I know whether he comes from Cork or Tipperary?"

He Named One
"Patience and perseverance will accomplish all things" was a favorite saying of an old Herefordshire miller. He had just given utterance to this remark one day, when a self-important man, who was waiting for grist, turned on him crossly: "No, sir! I can tell you a great many things that patience and perseverance cannot accomplish."

"Perhaps you can," said the miller quietly, "but I have never yet come across the thing. Will you name one?"

"Will patience and perseverance ever enable you to carry water in a sieve?"

"Certainly they will."

"I should like to have you tell me how it is to be accomplished."

"Simply by waiting patiently for the water to freeze."

Revealed a Fact
"I wish you hadn't had your hair cut so short, James," exclaimed the sweet young maid, turning away from him involuntarily.
"What difference does it make, dearest?" asked James with tender anxiety.

"You—you have destroyed an illusion," she sighed, "that is all."

"You didn't think I was a poet, did you, Maud, because I wore my hair long?"

CHAPTER ONE.
Fighting Shrimplin.

Custer felt it his greatest privilege to sit of a Sunday morning in his mother's clean and burnished kitchen and, while she washed the breakfast dishes, listen to such reflections as his father might care to indulge in.

On these occasions the senior Shrimplin, commonly called Shrimp by his intimates, was the very picture of unconventional case-taking as he lolled in his chair before the kitchen stove, a cracker box half filled with sawdust conveniently at hand.

As far back as his memory went Custer could recall vividly these Sunday mornings, with the church bells ringing peacefully beyond the windows of his modest home, and his father in easy address, just emerged from his weekly bath and pleasantly redolent of strong yellow soap, his feet incased in blue yarn socks—white at toe and heel—and the neckband of his fresh-starched shirt sawing away at the lobes of his freckled ears.

Custer was wholly and delightfully sympathetic. There was, he felt, the very choicest inspiration in the narrative, always growing and expanding, of his father's earliest career, before Mrs. Shrimplin came into his life, and as Mr. Shrimplin delicately intimated, tied him hand and foot. The same grounds of mutual understanding and intellectual dependence which existed between Custer and his father were lacking where Mrs. Shrimplin was concerned. She was unromantic, with a painfully literal cast of mind, though Custer—without knowing what is meant by a sense of humor, suspected her of this rare gift, a dangerous and destructive thing in woman. Privately considering her relation to his father, he was forced to the conclusion that their union was a most distressing instance of the proneness of really great minds to leave their deep channels and seek the shallow waters in the every-day concerns of life.

Mrs. Shrimplin had been born on the flats, and the flats had witnessed her meeting and mating with Shrimplin, when that gentleman had first appeared in Mount Hope in the interest of Whiting's celebrated tooth-powder, to the use of which he was not personally committed. At that time he was also an itinerant ill-poster and had his lodgings at Mary Schaffer's Railroad Hotel hard by the B. & O. tracks.

Mr. Shrimplin was five feet three, and narrow chested. A drooping flaxen mustache shaded a sloping chin and a loose under lip, while a pair of pale eyes looked sadly out upon the world from the shadow of a hooked nose.

Mr. Joe Montgomery, Mrs. Shrimplin's brother-in-law, present on the occasion of her marriage to the little bill-poster, had critically surveyed the bridegroom and had been moved to say to a friend, "Shrimp certainly do favor a peanut!"

Mr. Montgomery's comparative criticism of her husband's appearance had in due season reached the ears of the bride, and had caused a rupture in the family that the years had not healed, but her resentment had been more a matter of justice to herself than that she felt the criticism to be wholly inapt.

Mr. Shrimplin had now become a public servant, for certain gasoline lamps in the town of Mount Hope were his proud and particular care.

Any night he could be seen seated in his high two-wheeled cart drawn by a horse large in promise of speed but small in achievement, a hissing gasoline torch held between his knees, making his way through that part of the town where gas-lamps were as yet unknown. He still further added to his income by bill-posting and paper-hanging, for he belonged to the rank and file of life, with a place in the procession well toward the tail.

But Custer had no suspicion of this. He never saw his father as the world saw him. He would have described his eye as piercing; he would have said, in spite of the slouching uncertainty that characterized all his movements, that he was as quick as a cat; and it was only Custer who detected the note of authority in the meek tones of his father's voice.

A Little Boy's Composition

Said the teacher of composition: "Now children, don't attempt any flights of fancy. Don't try to imitate the things you have heard, but just be yourselves and write what is really in you." As a result of this advice one little boy turned in the following composition: "I ain't goin' to attempt no fits of fancy; I'm just goin' to write what's in me; and I got a heart, a liver, two lungs and some other things like that; then I got a stumick, and it's got in it a pickle, a piece of pie, two sticks of peppermint candy and my dinner."

PROGRESS.

Progress in the sense of acquisition is something, but progress in the sense of being is a great deal more. To grow higher, deeper, wider as the years go on, to conquer difficulties and to acquire more and more power, to feel all one's faculties unfolding and truth descending into the soul—this makes life worth living.—James Freeman Clarke.

Mr. Foster succeeding Mr. R. H. McCutcheon almost at the same time that Mr. H. N. Hempstead succeeded Mr. Frank Brush (his late father-in-law) as President of the "Giants." They will both keep close watch on Mr. Frank Farrell and Frank Chance, who aspire to make the "Hilltop" of the New York American League more popular than the "Giants." Baseball "fans" all over the country will watch the moves of these Leaders of Baseball with more than usual interest.

ROBERT A. CONEY DIES AT AGE OF 90

Justice of Peace of Fifth Ward for More Than Forty Years; Funeral Monday

Robert A. Coney died last night at his home, 802 Caledonia street, after a short illness of pneumonia. He was 90 years of age.

Coney was better known as "Judge Coney" and was one of the oldest residents of the city, being prominent in politics as a democrat. He was justice of the peace in the Fifth ward for more than forty years, and prior to this time was supply man on the Milwaukee railroad here.

He leaves two sons, John and Robert Coney, two daughters, Mrs. Geo. Fisher and Miss Emma Coney, all of La Crosse.

The funeral services will be held Monday morning from the St. James church.

G. W. RUDOLPH DIES IN WEST LA CROSSE

George W. Rudolph, 38 years of age, died at his home in West La Crosse last night at 12 o'clock. Death was caused by a complication of diseases.

Mr. Rudolph was born in Belleville, Ill. He is survived by his widow and three children, and two brothers and four sisters in Belleville, one sister in St. Louis, Mo., and a brother in Owassa, Mich.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

DEMONIAC'S HOWLS DISTURB SLEEPERS

The stillness of the night air on Loomis street was rudely broken last night by a man who is thought by the police to be a drunken demoniac.

About 9 o'clock last night residents in the 1500 block of Loomis street were disturbed by a series of loud howls and screams and running out of their homes, they discovered a man standing on the porch of Glen Bartholomew's home, with his arm through the pane of a window, which he had evidently broken. He was screaming at the top of his voice.

When the man discovered that his presence was known he ran down the street, still emitting howls such as the residents of Loomis street had seldom heard. Detective Fitzsimmons and Patrolman Koschnitzky were called but before they arrived the man had gone.

Nothing of him has been seen, and his identity has not been discovered.

The Young People's society of the Bethel Lutheran church were entertained last night by Ole Woll.

Robert Dennis, Trempealeau, is in the La Crosse hospital.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at Barre Mills.

ENGINEER CHOOSES BRIDE IN SPARTA

John Mosher, engineer on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, and Miss Myrtle Lee, of Sparta, were married about two weeks ago in Sparta. The young couple were married secretly, and have tried to keep the news from their many friends. They are living for the present with Mr. Mosher's mother on Hagar street.

Are Medicines Wholly Useless? Can The Masses Get Along Without Them?

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.
Columbus, Ohio.

I give a portion of a letter lately received, which was to me very interesting. I also give a portion of my answer. The writer says:

"Dear Doctor Hartman: I am very much interested in your articles. I have no doubt they will do a great deal of good. Sometimes I am almost tempted to buy a bottle of Pe-ru-na and have it on hand, because of your convincing talk, but I belong to a health club. It is one rule of this club to have nothing to do with disease or medicine. Our whole talk is health and things that make for health. We are determined, all of us, to never use medicine in any form. Of course we do not attempt to deny the usefulness of medicine on some occasions, but for ourselves we have decided that we will so live that we shall never need the services of a doctor or the assistance of a medicine. What would you do if you were in my place?"

My Dear Boy: Your letter interests me greatly. I am glad to know that you are reading my articles that are appearing now in the papers. You have perhaps noticed that a portion of each article is devoted to the subject of keeping well.

What would I advise you to do under the circumstances? I should advise you to go right on as you have been doing. Get along without medicine if you possibly can. Look toward Nature for assistance. Clean habits, frugal diet. Early to bed, in a well ventilated room. Work every day at something you like to do. Keep up your enthusiasm. Have faith in Nature and Nature's God. The laws of Nature are inexorable, but the rewards of Nature are kind and beneficent beyond all expression. If you do these things you may during your whole life escape the necessity of using medicine, but even with all this you may occasionally need medicine.

But you must remember that you and your club are exceptional people, that the great masses of people go on thoughtlessly. Their diet is very ill fitted to sustain their bodies properly. Their exposure to cold and wet and heat and fatigue is very reckless. In short, they do not know how to take care of themselves. Consequently, a medicine is necessary often.

The medicine Pe-ru-na is a climatic medicine. It is intended to reach climatic troubles, troubles that arise as the direct result of exposure to climate.

It is also intended to meet those difficulties which arise from improper nourishment of the body and improper diet, producing indigestion and biliousness.

The principal climatic trouble in our country is catarrh, and a large number of people have catarrh. Perhaps one-half of our people. Such people not only need to take care of themselves as you boys are doing, but they need a medicine to render them a little assistance. Pe-ru-na is exactly what they need.

If we could have the world full of people that are living as you are, perhaps I should then not advocate the use of any drug, but you are only one in ten thousand. The rest are going on heedlessly and recklessly, and it is for them that I am recommending Pe-ru-na.

Such people not only need to take care of themselves as you boys are doing, but they need a medicine to render them a little assistance. Pe-ru-na is exactly what they need.

If we could have the world full of people that are living as you are, perhaps I should then not advocate the use of any drug, but you are only one in ten thousand. The rest are going on heedlessly and recklessly, and it is for them that I am recommending Pe-ru-na.

The average household needs Pe-ru-na more than I can possibly describe. The small children, the father and mother, the grand children, are all stumbling along heedless of the laws of Nature. A sudden attack of cold, a chill, cough, hoarseness, tightness in the chest, biliousness, dyspepsia, any one of these things is liable to occur at any time in such a household.

Now, such people ought to have Pe-ru-na. At the first symptom that presents itself, or any disturbance of the body, a few doses of Pe-ru-na should be taken. If the disease is acute Pe-ru-na had better be taken a teaspoonful every hour. If it is a disturbance that allows the patient to go about his usual business, taken according to the directions on the bottle is best. If this is done it will save the people untold expense and suffering. Not one case in fifty that comes under the care of the doctor would occur if Pe-ru-na was kept in the house and taken at the very outset of the trouble. Yes, all this is true and more.

I have hoped all my life to live to see the day when obedience to the laws of Nature would be prevalent, when the people would live so they would not invite disease or provoke disturbance in the body. But I have not lived to see that day yet. I hardly think I shall. But I have lived to see the day when the people and even the medical profession are very much more interested in hygiene and sanitation than they used to be.

At one time, as a writer, I seemed to be all alone in trying to get the people to listen and become obedient to the laws governing their bodies. Now there are writers galore saying the same things. I am profoundly grateful that this is so.

So long as there are disobedient ones, so long we must have medicine. Even those who are trying to be obedient to the laws of Nature, trying their very best, need medicine for unavoidable conditions that often bring on some derangement. If such little derangements were met promptly with Pe-ru-na the day would more quickly come when even Pe-ru-na would not be needed, the day when the drug doctor would absolutely go out of business. May that day hasten. I shall do all I can while I do live to hurry on the coming of that millennium when all drugs will be relegated to the rubbish heap and all doctor books laid aside as curiosities.

Pe-ru-na, Man-a-lin and La-cu-pla manufactured by the Pe-ru-na Company, Columbus, Ohio. Sold at all drug stores.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Notwithstanding the possibility of some interesting news over the Sunday holiday, the recent complete inertia on both home and foreign stock exchanges continued today. Dispatches from southeastern Europe reported the severe defeat of the Turkish troops, which most people have been exchanging, but this had no influence on the European stock exchange when in fact, an advance in Turkish government plans was almost the only interesting movement.

On our own market, was dull and changes in prices only fractional. Union Pacific stock again remained apathetic to the progress of the settlement with South Pacific. Stock of the last named railway, though it also moved little, nevertheless touched the lowest price of the present year, to date.

"A Tempest in a Teapot."

The expression "a tempest in a teapot" is one of great antiquity. Its first historic appearance is in the "De Legibus" of Cicero, who quotes it as a common saying. "Gratidius raised a tempest in a table, as the saying is." The French proverb, "Une tempeste dans une verre d'eau" (a tempest in a glass of water), was first applied to the disturbances in the Geneva republic near the end of the seventeenth century. In England the word "teapot" was substituted for the sake of alliteration. It is said to have been popularized by Lord North, who employed it to characterize the outbreak of the American colonists against the tax on tea.

SO SURE

AM I, THAT YOU will make Gray's Yerba Santa Cough Cure your favorite cough remedy after a fair trial, that I am willing to make you this proposition:

BUY A 50c OR $1 bottle of it, and faithfully use it according to directions.

USE HALF A BOTTLE of it, and if you tell me it brought no relief, I will cheerfully return your full money, on return of the other half bottle.

IT IS THE MOST successful cough remedy that you can possibly buy, and is splendid for young and old alike, there is only a difference in the size of the dose.

AFTER YOU HAVE tried it, you will understand why I am so enthusiastic about Gray's Yerba Santa Cough Cure.

Respectfully,

"I do not, my lord," replied the advocate.

SOCIETY

F. R. A. TO STAGE A LIGHT OPERA

The Musical and Dramatic club of the F. R. A. are planning to take up a different phase of the dramatic art by going into light opera and are planning on producing on March 6 an opera, "The Princess and the Country Maid." The abundance of musical and dramatic talent in the order has made it possible to undertake work in light opera. The production planned is a rearrangement of an opera that has been produced upon the professional stage many times and may be compared with the "Spring Maid." A number of the latest song hits are introduced at appropriate times in the plot and with a pretty flower chorus the club feels confident that it will make the biggest hit of anything ever before attempted by the club. The order is negotiating with a Chicago scene painting studio for more scenery that will fit the needs of the club. Twenty-five persons are to take part in the opera and work has been started at the rehearsals to make each particular group a headliner in itself. Later on the club will put on some of their productions at one of the local opera houses.

YEOMEN PRE-LENTEN BALL

The character ball given by the ladies of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Tuesday evening, was a delightful success both financially and socially. Many handsome costumes were in evidence and after the promenade the prizes were awarded as follows: Gypsy, Mrs. Howard; Norwegian gentleman, Dr. Rosholt; Geo. Washington, Mr. Wm. Pfafflin, and Mrs. Krueger as the farmer. The following were the judges: Miss S. Baker, Mrs. Furber and Messrs. Welmar, Berensen and Cross.

The circle held its regular meeting in the small hall int he afternoon and after the business meeting progressive cinch was played and favors were given to Mesdames Mosser, Rossberg, Dennison, Grove, Buchholz and Forster.

The Yeomen will take in a class of from fifty to seventy-five new members next Tuesday evening, putting on the full work with stereopticon slides. The Yeomen orchestra will be in attendance.

JUST A WORD about good dependable Pianos: Most people make the grievous mistake to look and think too much about the first cost.

A good piano manufactured by a reputable concern takes time, skilled labor and brains to build. Such a piano is in the course of construction from nine to twelve months. When you have the finished product it is a masterpiece, not an excuse for a piano. I take pleasure in stating that I have the representation of the world's most famous and renowned pianos, such as "Steinway," "A. B. Chase," "Everett," "Estey," "Kurtzmann," "Shoninger" and "Schiller." The wonderful "Apollo Player Piano," with the human touch and spring motor, a player which will never give you cause for complaint.

A good Piano is the cheapest in the long run. Come in and see me and let us talk it over.

I carry the complete "Victor" line of Victrolas and Machines, also a complete assortment of Records. Yours to please.

BILL IS AIMED AT HIGH LIVING COST

Hull Introduces Measure Providing Method of Direct Sale of Produce

WOULD PREPARE LIST OF BUYERS

Industrial Commission to Furnish Farmers with Names of Purchasers

(From Tribune Madison Bureau)
MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—A bill aimed directly at the high cost of living was introduced into the assembly yesterday morning by Speaker Merwin Hull. It is the first bill of the kind ever proposed in Wisconsin.

Mr. Hull declares that the farmer receives but 46 per cent of the retail price of his produce. Therefore his bill aims to cut out the middleman. It provides that the industrial commission shall make and publish a list of consumers who desire to buy directly from the producer. Any citizen of the state shall be able to get the list on application. To get his name on the list a consumer must furnish references, in order to guarantee the farmer payment.

"MAN UP A TREE"
TOPIC AT Y. M. C. A.

"The Man Up a Tree" is the interesting topic of the speaker's address at the Young Men's Christian association tomorrow afternoon. When Mr. C. J. Hunt, one of the leading citizens of St. Paul, will be present to give the address named above. Mr. Hunt has been a leader in the work of the St. Paul Y. M. C. A., and is a state committeeman also, and is looked upon as one of the keenest analysts of moral and religious work and methods. Mrs. A. C. Gran will sing a solo at the meeting tomorrow afternoon. The meeting is open to the public for men with admission free. The service begins at 3:30 o'clock.

CHILDREN LOVE
SYRUP OF FIGS

Sweetens their stomachs and cleans the liver and waste-clogged bowels without griping.

Every mother immediately realizes after giving her child delicious Syrup of Figs that this is the ideal laxative and physic for the children. Nothing else regulates the little one's stomach, liver and bowels of tender bowels so promptly, besides they dearly love its delightful fig taste.

If your child isn't feeling well; resting nicely; eating regularly and acting naturally it is a sure sign that its little insides need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, tongue coated, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in few hours all the foul, constipated, clogged up waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, it cannot be harmful. Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only Stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and grown-ups plainly printed on the package.
Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, healthy, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

BULGARIA CLAIMS
DEFEAT OF TURKS

Give Out News that the Osmanli Are in Utter Rout Near Gallipoli

GREEK AVIATOR'S FLIGHT SUCCESS

Flies Over the Dardanelles Straits and Drops Bombs on Moslem Warships

SOFIA, Feb. 8.—An official statement by the war office today declared that 15,000 Turks have been killed by the Bulgarians in the Gallipoli fighting and 10,000 taken prisoners. That the Turks are in utter rout is claimed.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Fierce fighting continued today in the peninsula of Gallipoli and the bombardment of Adrianople was uninterrupted. That was about the extent of the reliable news that penetrated to London from the theater of war.

The only interesting bit of war news came from the island of Larnos, in the Aegean. Lieutenant Maritakis, a Greek aviator, made a flight over the Dardanelles in a hydro-aeroplane. The Greek flew at an altitude of 1500 feet and dropped three bombs on Turkish warships in the Dardanelles.

ONALASKA SCOUTS
TO PLAY AT "Y"

The La Crosse Y. M. C. A. Boy Scouts will play the Onalaska Boy Scouts basketball team this evening in the Y. M. C. A. gym. A hard game is assured due to the fact that the Onalaska Scouts outweigh the La Crosse lads by fifteen pounds. Although handicapped by this fact, the local scouts depend on their speed to win. The Y. M. C. A. team has been practicing daily and much enthusiasm is being shown among the boy departments. This game is a preliminary to the Scouts' schedule, as they will play in Viroqua in Feb. 21, and Winona Feb. 14; they will play Viroqua here on Feb. 28. The second Scout team will play a preliminary game with a junior Y. M. C. A. team. The line-up for the locals is as follows: Zein, center; Boyd and Peterson, guards; Hyde, Montague and Werner, forwards.

FRIEDMAN TO LIVE IN UNITED STATES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 8.—Charles E. Finlay, the New York millionaire who offered $1,000,000 for a positive cure for tuberculosis, so as to cure his son-in-law, today received a cablegram stating that Dr. F. E. Friedman, the German scientist, who claims to have discovered a tuberculosis cure, left Berlin last night to board a ship for the United States. The reported reason for secrecy about his departure was that he had been forbidden to leave Germany by the government, Finlay says. Finlay also said that Dr. Friedman probably would make his permanent home in the United States.

LADIES ADMITTED TO
BILLIARD TOURNEY

Announcement was made by the committee in charge today that the state amateur billiard tournament, which will open at the lodge rooms of the Elks' club Monday evening, will be open to ladies. It has also been decided to admit invited guests of the members of the La Crosse and Elks' club under whose management, the tournament will be given. No admission fee will be charged to witness the games of the five best cue artists in the state. C. L. V. Craft has been appointed referee.

Wisconsin Association Urges Senate to Use All Means to Retain Commissioner

At a meeting of 150 members of the Wisconsin Association of Town Mutual Fire Insurance companies, at which Tom Johnson of La Crosse and V. S. Keppel of Holmen, were present, a resolution was adopted petitioning the senate to "use all honorable means to retain the services of Herman L. Ekern if possible." The meeting, which was the regular biennial session of the association, was held yesterday in Madison. The association is formed of 204 local insurance companies.

"We further hereby instruct the legislative committee of this association," the resolution says, "to use their influence to its utmost extent to assist in the movement to retain the services of the said Herman L. Ekern as commissioner of insurance."

The resolution was drafted by Mr. George Ure, Neillville and Mr. M. L. Karney, Broadhead.

THEY DESTROY PLANTS

MILITANT SUFFRAGETTES BREAK INTO ORCHID HOUSES AND RUIN $100,000 OF RARE FLOWERS

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Militant suffragettes before dawn today destroyed thousands of dollars worth of rare plants in Kew Palace gardens, London's most beautiful horticultural exhibition. The women broke out many window panes in two orchidhouses, tore off and scattered many costly blooms and totally demolished some rare plants that can never be replaced.

The curator of the gardens said the damage would run over $100,000.

COMMITTEE OPPOSES
BILL SAYS SCHUBERT

The senate committee which has in hand the bill which contemplates the transfer of half of the city's liquor license fund to the county road fund, is unanimously opposed to the passage of the bill, according to a statement of City Attorney A. H. Schubert, who returned today from Madison, where he appeared in behalf of La Crosse in opposition to the measure. City officials say that the city of La Crosse would be forced to transfer about $16,000 to the county road fund if the bill became a law.

EXTEND INTRODUCTION TIME

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—It was announced Thursday night that the time for the introduction of new bills in the legislature had been extended from Feb. 10 to Feb. 18. The committee announced that after that date all bills must come through committees. Nearly a hundred bills were noted on the calendar for committee hearings next week.

COOL MURDER MAY CAUSE RACE WAR

Superintendent of Plant Shoots Down Three Negroes in Cold Blood

COLORED POPULATION IS AROUSED

Evansville Man Who Did the Shooting Believed to Be Insane

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 8.—Three negro employees were shot dead today by Allen Von Behren, 22, in his millionaire father's woodworking establishment.

Young Von Behren jumped into his parent's automobile, rode to the police station and gave himself up. He is believed to be insane.

"I had to kill them," he declared. "They swore they would get me."

Factories near the scene of the shooting have closed down. The negro population of the city is aroused. Many of the colored employees are congregating around saloons and a race riot is feared.

In 1903 16 men were killed in a race riot here.

The shooting today followed trouble between young Von Behren and his father's employees yesterday. Threats were made then, according to witnesses. Von Behren said he determined to come armed and today carried two loaded revolvers. He shot the men without warning.

The police this afternoon are getting their Winchester for probable riot duty. Chief Corey said he was taking no chances. Many of the older policemen who served through the riots of 1903 and in their opinion the situation this afternoon looked ominous.

Already the white population is giving the colored quarter a wide berth.

GERMAN M. E. TO

BASKET SOCIAL

The Sons of Norway will have a basket party in the Odd Fellows hall on Wednesday evening. The ladies will bring decorated baskets filled with good things to eat, which will be auctioned off to the men. There will be dancing, before and after the luncheon.

TO THE KNOWING ONES

Some people are good judges of a watch—a great many are not. To some a well known make, bought by the dealer at a fire sale, or second hand, advertised at an odd low price seems to touch the spot. This is an easy trade to satisfy.

It is the discriminating buyer—the one who is wise enough to know best and will have it, that we wish to entertain at our counters. Don't buy a watch as you would a load of potatoes. Buy it from an exclusive dealer who knows the inner secrets of its delicate mechanism, and would select one for you as he would for himself.

The name of Parker's store is noted for the candid spirit that prevails and dominates every watch sale.

REGISTRATION TO CAUSE LIGHT VOTE

Second Papers Necessary to Make Residents Eligible to Vote This Election

RE-REGISTRATION IS ORDERED

Old Lists to Be Destroyed Under National Law Which Is Now in Effect

Every person who votes at the coming municipal election, both the primary and final, must register previous to the election, regardless of how long he may have been a citizen of La Crosse. Under the provisions of a law passed by congress a year ago no person who has not taken out his second naturalization papers can vote after January 1, 1913. This law also provides that all registration books in use prior to January 1, 1913, be destroyed and that any person in order to be eligible to vote after that date must register again.

City politicians are speculating on the effect the re-registration will have upon the election. All agree that it will cause a lighter vote and much concern is being experienced in several of the southern wards of the city where a large number of men who have voted heretofore will be barred because they have failed to procure their second papers.

There will be three registration days this spring. The first two will be held February 25 and 26, the primary election March 18, the third registration day March 25 and the municipal election April 1. Voters may have their vote sworn in this year the same as in previous elections.

WALDO AFTER GRAFT

IS AROUSED BY GAMBLER'S TESTIMONY THAT HE PAID $10,000 A YEAR FOR PROTECTION

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—With Commissioner Waldo at last agreeing to work in co-operation with District Attorney Whitman today, it appeared more likely than ever before that the real "trial of the graft" would be followed to the highest on the "higher ups."

There was much speculation today to find out what action Waldo would take as a result of the testimony before the aldermanic committee by James Purcell, former gambler and partner of Rosenthal, who swore that he paid graft money to two inspectors and six captains, besides many minor officers. He swore that he paid $50,000 in five years, or ten thousand a year.

"I can't, hey? Here's the ticket for it."

The Ones That Sold.
Father—Well, how does your husband succeed with his art? Does he sell any pictures? Daughter—I should think so! Why, there is not one left of those you gave us for a wedding present!

Encouraging Father.
"I cannot understand how you have the presumption to think that I would permit my daughter to become your wife."

"It does seem rather surprising, I suppose. But cheer up. You are not half as badly upset as I was when she suggested it to me."—Chicago Record-Herald.

PERSEVERANCE.

All the performances of human art, at which we look with praise or wonder, are instances of the resistless force of perseverance. It is by this that great cities rise, that the quarry becomes a pyramid and that distant countries are united by canals.

MYSTERY AT PARK
STORE IS SOLVED

Signs Bearing Unexplained Motto "Coming" Awaken Curiosity of Multitude of Customers

QUESTIONS ARE OF NO AVAIL

Secret Finally Disclosed Through Medium of Extra Edition of Store Newspaper

Much wonderment has been manifested the past week by visitors at the big Doerflinger store, as to the meaning of the single word "Coming" written on the floors throughout the store. Neither was the wonderment appeased when later in the week, signs became visible at various conspicuous places throughout the store and show windows, bearing the words "Coming Soon Wait." The only possible sources of information were interrogated to no avail. No one seemed to know. This morning, however, a 4-page newspaper, size, announcement explained the mystery, and at the same time announcing one of the most unique and extraordinary sales ever inaugurated by a department store were circulated broadcast throughout the city.

The first page bears a full size picture of President Wm. Doerflinger with his characteristic smile, presenting the store to his employees, who are grouped on the opposite side of the page. An announcement also appears here to the effect, that the Wm. Doerflinger Co. turns the store over to employees. The second page is blank and the third and fourth pages are devoted to seasonable merchandise of all kinds at special prices.

In an interview today Mr. Rumbaugh, advertising manager for the Doerflinger Co., said so far as he knew this was the first time a sale of this nature had ever been introduced anywhere.

The idea is so far out of the ordinary thought it is a pleasant relief from the common every day trade event.

This remark to Mr. Rumbaugh brought forth the following reply: "How about these items for being out of the ordinary, nothing very common place about them; see these prices, every one is bona fide too."

"They have got to be in this day and age, for the modern customer is no fool. He or she is educated. The stores themselves have been the school masters. They have educated the public how to know good goods; they have taught it to expect honest values and honest treatment, and to hold a successful sale now-a-days, you must have more to make the inducement than superfluous adjectives in advertising."

"Some of the items advertised are actually at and below the manufacturers' cost. Sounds sort of questionable, doesn't it? Never the less it's true. Why? For the same reason a big circus runs a parade, it pulls the people. In a word, merchandise sold in a sale at a loss, causes the people to come into our store, it familiarizes them with our system, subjects them to our courteous treatment, brings them in contact with our line of goods, and makes the favorable impression that makes them our regular customers."

Interesting incidents in the life of Captain Amundsen was that which came at the time of Peary's discovery of the north pole. The captain was at that time ready to proceed in search of the north pole. He had put out to sea, when word came of Dr. Cook's alleged discovery. Then came Peary's counter claim, and with ready decision Captain Amundsen sent back a message that he would change his course from the north to the south, and seek the south pole.

The Dash for the Pole
Then followed that exciting race between Amundsen and Scott, the English explorer, who was at that very time getting away in search of the south pole. The expedition wintered at the Bay of Whales, and an interesting fact is that Captain Scott also came into this bay during his rush toward the pole. Five of Amundsen's party of eight men made the dash for the pole in August.

It is said that nothing today in dramatic effect Captain Amundsen's description of these last exciting stages in his historic journey. Pictures of the party as they move south are rapidly flashed upon the canvas, and the narrative keeps pace with the realistic story they tell. And at last he recites how five men stood at the southern end of our earth's axis, planted the Norwegian flag there, and named the region after the man for whom they would all gladly have offered their lives—King Haakon VII. Thus the veil was torn aside for all time, and one of the greatest of our earth's secrets had ceased to exist.

STATE TOURNAMENT WILL OPEN MONDAY

Five Star Amateur Billiard
Players of Wisconsin
Will Clash for Honors at Elks' Club

SCHWEIZER CONTENDER FOR CUP

La Crosse Man Will Make Bid for Trophies to Be Given Winners of the Tourney

The first of a series of ten games in the state amateur billiard tournament, which will be given in La Crosse by the State Amateur Billiard association under the auspices of the La Crosse and Elks' clubs, will be played in the lodge hall of the Elks club Monday evening. The games will be played for the amateur championship of the state. The five entries are: Dr. E. W. Douglas, Appleton; A. J. Elmslie, Milwaukee, present state champion; C. H. Schweizer, La Crosse; R. V. Fossenden, Madison, and Louis Morton, Madison.

The games will be straight rail for 300 points, with no handicaps. The list of prizes raised by subscription in the two clubs were announced today as follows: First, gold match box, cigar cutter and pen knife linked with gold chain; second, copper smoking set, tobacco and cigar jar, tray and cigar holder; third,
traveling set of military brushes;
fourth, stick pin; high run, maniche set; high average, leather cigar case.
A grand trophy, a magnificent silver loving cup, has been donated by a company manufacturing billiard tables, and it will be awarded the player who wins the championship three times in succession.

The committee in charge of the tournament is given herewith: C. L.
V. Craft, C. W. Dow, C. H. Schweizer of the La Crosse club, and Dr. E.
A. Gatterdam, Frank L. Koppelberg-er and C. A. Worth of the Elks club.

A special table has been imported from Milwaukee for the tournament and the special set of ivory balls have been stored away in the hall a week becoming "acclimated." A game was recently played on this table between Slosson and Yamada, the champion Japanese player. The table is one of the finest in the country and was built especially for championship tournaments.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM LEAVES FOR SPARTA

A great deal of interest was manifested at the high school all week over the game with the Sparta high school at Sparta tonight. Many of the students accompanied the team which will be the same as usual, with Captain Weiss at center, Gar-der and Zeisler forwards, and Dorn-bach and Krause guards.

The high school basketball team will in all probability play two games next week, meeting the strong Tomah high school team here on Friday night and going to Bara-boe on Saturday. If the locals win both of these games they will be the representative for this district at the state tournament held at Appleton in March.

TO SUPPRESS T. R. LIBEL DEPOSITIONS

MENOMINEE, Mich., Feb. 8.—
Judge R. C. Flannigan today rendered a decision ordering the clerk of Marquette county to suppress publication of depositions taken in the libel case brought by Theodore Roosevelt against George A. Newett, editor of the Ishpeming Iron Ore.
The chief reason is to save trouble in impeding an unprejudiced jury, it is said.

LA FOLLETTE TO SERVE WITH ROOT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Senators Oliver, LaFollette, Root, Smoot and Cummins were designated today as the legislative steering committee authorized by yesterday's republican caucus. It is expected that the committee will be in constant touch with the legislative situation.

Quite Hopeless
"Good-bye, sweetheart!" He had said it so many times that the repetition of the words sounded like a farce; but now they had by a slow circuitous route reached the vestibule, and there really seemed to be no reason why the young man should not go at once. But her "sweetheart" took the matter in hand.
"George, dear, did you ever hear that there's luck in odd numbers?"
The young man looked a little puzzled. He was evidently obtuse when he should be quick witted. The young woman came to the rescue.
"You kissed me twelve times," she said reproachfully.
George did not need any more prompting. He at once responded to the call for an odd number. He had his hand on the front door, when he heard a low, deep sigh.
"George"—the words had a sorrowful tone—"did you ever hear that thirteen was an unlucky number?"
George had just made the number even again when a gruff voice, rounded from the landing above:
"That'll do, George; leave some for tomorrow night."

BABY PITIFUL SIGHT WITH ECZEMA

Completely Covered. Bandaged from Head to Foot. Dared Not Wash Him. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 4 Weeks and He Was Cured.

"A few days after birth we noticed an inflamed spot on our baby's hip which soon became spreading until baby was completely covered even in his eyes, ears and scalp. For eight weeks he was bandaged from head to foot. He could not have a stitch of clothing on. Our regular physician pronounced it chronic eczema. He is a very able physician and ranks with the best in this locality, nevertheless, the disease began spreading until baby was completely covered. He was losing flesh so rapidly that we became alarmed and decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"Not until I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment could we tell what he looked like, as we dared not wash him, and I had been putting one application after another on him. On removing the scale from his head the hair came off, and left him entirely bald, but since we have been using Cuticura Soap and Ointment he has as much hair as ever. Four weeks after we began to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment he was entirely cured. I don't believe anyone could have eczema worse than our baby.

"Before we used the Cuticura Remedies we could hardly look at him, he was such a pitiful sight. He would fuss until I would treat him, they seemed to relieve him so much. Cuticura Soap and Ointment stand by themselves and the result they quickly and surely bring is their own recommendation." (Signed) Mrs. T. B. Rosser, Mill Hall, Pa., Feb. 20, '11. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 294, Boston, for a liberal sample of each, post-free, with 22-p. book on the skin.

Domestic Hints

(From The Scotch-American)

When washing glassware try dropping a few drops of blue into soap-suds. Then wash the pieces in the ordinary manner. You will like the way the glass will sparkle, and how clear it will look after this simple yet most effective treatment.

The best way for using up odd pieces of soap is to put them all in to a pan with a little water and let simmer until dissolved. Add enough silver sand to form a stiff paste, roll into balls, and set in a cool place to harden. This will be found excellent for scrubbing kitchen tables, wooden floors, etc.

To clean paint take one ounce of pulverized borax, one pound of small pieces of best brown soap, and three quarts of water. Let it simmer till the soap is dissolved, stirring frequently. Do not let it boil. Use a piece of old flannel and rinse off as soon as the paint is clean. This mixture is also good for washing clothes.

Loops for hanging garments are always wearing out and breaking, particularly on cloaks and coats. To make a durable loop cut a strip of kid from an old glove roll into it a piece of coarse string, and sew the edges of the kid neatly together. This loop, fastened securely to a garment, will stand any amount of pulling without wearing or breaking.

THREE FAST DAYS DURING NEXT WEEK

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of the coming week are ember days and Catholics will abstain from eating meat on those days. Following the coming week, Wednesdays and Fridays will be fast days, with the exception of the last week in Lent when the Saturday following Good Friday and preceding Easter Sunday will also be included in the days of fast.

Catholics observe every day from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday (with the exception of Sundays which are not considered as part of Lent) by following the rules of the church which allow but one full meal and two lunches per day. On days known as fast days Catholics are also required to abstain from the use of meat.

A woman wants a recipe for politics just like soda biscuit.

LOSING YOUR HAIR?

Read What a Herpetide Enthusiast Says

You are becoming bald. The hair is getting thin on the top of your head and unless you take my advice you will, before long, be as hairless as a croquet ball. Remember too that chronic baldness is incurable. It is all due to dandruff. I can tell, because you always have dandruff flakes on your coat collar. Besides being an indication of impending baldness, it also suggests untidiness.

Newbro's Herpetide will kill the germ that causes dandruff, checks further accumulation of scurf skin and stops falling hair.

You are not taking any chances when you purchase Herpetide and you are tempting fate when you use anything else. Herpetide has thousands upon thousands of satisfied users who testify to its germ destroying and hair preserving qualities.

Newbro's Herpetide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded. The best barbers recommend and use it.

Send 10c in postage to The Herpetide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for sample and booklet. Hoerschler Bros. special agents.

(2.) Does God control the winds and the waters in any direct way or other than by natural laws?

(3.) Verses 4-5—Did the ark rest "upon the mountains of Ararat" by the steering of Noah or by the guidance of God? Why?

(4.) Do the chief events in our lives come about by our own plans or through the providence of God? Give your reasons.

(5.) Verses 6-12—Why did God not tell Noah in advance when the flood should cease, seeing he had told him to a day when it should commence?

(6.) What reason is there to believe that a true Christian may depend that God will tell him in advance what it is necessary for him to know and will only hide from him what it is better not to know till the events transpire?

(7.) What means did Noah adopt to find out if the waters were drying up?

(8.) Seeing God could reveal to us every item concerning our affairs, present and future, why does he so arrange that we have to find out for ourselves just as if there were no God?

(9.) Verses 13-19—With what kind of feeling would Noah and his family be likely to greet the dry land after seeing nothing but water for months?

(10.) How long were Noah and his family in the ark?

(11.) Verses 20-22—What would you say is the foundation of civilized society?

(12.) What was it that Noah did which pleased God so much, and why is God pleased with us when we worship him and deny ourselves to help others?

(13.) What was the covenant that God made with Noah?

(14.) What is the covenant which God makes with all who trust him?

(15.) What can we depend upon with greater certainty than day and night and the recurring seasons of the year?

(16.) Chap. ix:1—What is the chief value of a large population?

(17.) Which families, large or small, are generally better off and have the greater average amount of happiness?

(18.) Verse 2—How do you account for it that man dominates the entire brute creation?

(19.) Verses 3-5—If man, as it appears, had been a vegetarian for 1,656 years, why did God now arrange for him to be a meat eater?

(20.) Verse 6—If Jesus were an earthly legislator would he vote to do away with capital punishment? Why?

Would Come Again

Sir Thomas Lipton tells a good story about a Scotsman who went to a horse race for the first time in his life. The old fellow was a feeble minded man, and his companions who took him to the race meeting presently persuaded him to stake a sixpence in the third race on a 40 to 1 shot. By some miracle this outsider won. When the bookmaker gave old Sandy a golden sovereign and his sixpence the winner could not believe his eyes.

"Do you mean to tell me," he said, "that I got all this for my sixpence?"

"You do," said the bookmaker. "Ma conscience!" muttered Sandy, "tell me, mon, how long has this thing been going on?"

Would Keep Quiet

A local theater manager tells us that it is necessary to be cold and firm with "professionals" who try to get the best seats in the house upon the presentation of their cards. Otherwise a matinee performance might play to a paper house when seats are eagerly sought by people willing to pay real money.

A ticket man in a certain Euclid avenue opera house answered the old panhandler thus last Saturday afternoon:

"Do you recognize the profession?" wheezed a seedy looking hamfatter, butting his way into the line of buyers.

"Yes," answered the man at the window, "I do. But if you slip out of the line quietly I won't give you away."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Giving Him a Shock

"Miss Dubbkins—Marietta—" stammered Wimbleton, nervously, "er—wow—will yuh—yuh—yuh—um—um—marry me?"

"Don't you ever ask me a question like that again, Reginald Wimbleton," replied the girl, proudly.

"But—why—why, Mum—Marietta?" stuttered Wimbleton. "I lul—lul—love you—dud—devotedly and—"

"Because," the fair girl answered, firmly, "because it will not be necessary for you to subject yourself to the nervous strain. I will."—Harper's Weekly.

CHURCH NEWS

Higher Criticism

And Sunday Schools

Some American business men sail from San Francisco within a few days for the far east. They are Sunday school enthusiasts, and are returning by way of Europe they are to attend the world Sunday school convention in Zurich, Switzerland, in July next. At about the same time some English business men sail for the near east and India, and returning by way of the United States will also report at Zurich.

Alarm obtains among non-conformists in England just now over reports of 32,000 losses in number of Sunday school pupils in England last year. Wesleyans report largest losses, being no less than 12,400. Baptists, Congregationalists and Presbyterians alike fell off. The charge is made by leaders that Sunday school lesson helps talk about the Bible instead of presenting the Bible itself. In short, so-called higher criticism is charged with being the largest factor in the untoward showing.

Methodists in this country, on the other hand, make Sunday school showing for the past four years that breaks all recent records. The increase in scholars last year was 228,000 in regular grades, or including home and cradle 259,000, so that officers and teachers in Methodist schools in the United States now number 4,272,200. Teacher training classes, started only four years ago, now enroll 11,000 learners. Adult Bible classes, started in 1909, have 164,000 members. Sunday school missionaries, giving all their time, are now working in twenty-two states. New churches in considerable numbers are growing from these schools.

Lenten Noon

Hour Service

Not until the year 2008 will Lent again fall as early as in 1913. The number of noon hour services in churches and halls in business districts of cities during Lent steadily increases. Beginning with Episcopal, the Roman Catholic and Lutheran churches are now taking them up. Furthermore, it is found that Christians of all names are attending these services, even Protestants going in considerable numbers to Catholic conferences held at the lunch-hour.

In New York this Lent the number of these Lenten services has gone up to fourteen, three more than last year. Of these eleven are Episcopal and three Roman Catholic. During the forty weeks days of Lent total attendance at all of these services will reach 180,000. Of this number, fully 60 per cent will be men, or at any rate that was about the percentage last Lent. Women in business do not attend noonday services as do men. It is said they are not accustomed to it. Many of the women who do attend are not shop girls, but married women coming down town and taking in the services, sometimes with their husbands and sons.

A curious phase of Lenten services is the tremendous increase in the number of men and women who enter the churches and halls when no services at all are in progress. This form of church attendance has increased 500 per cent in some cities within the last five years. It extends not merely to the churches where sightseers congregate, but to all, and nine in ten of this new form of attendance is made up of men.

"Whatsoever things are true, things are honest."

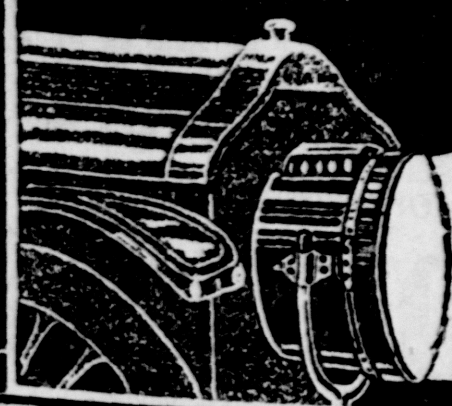

"Think on these things."

"True and Honest." This is the simple epitaph on the monument of the great general. He requested that no more be said. He knew war. He said "War is Hell." He was not a fiend in war though he was of the most heroic type. Ferocity did not measure his life. His closest friends declare he had the gentleness of a woman. His epitaph sums his ambition.

Why I bought a Cadillac

MR. J. E. ZIMMER, Mgr.,
La Crosse Motor Car Co.
La Crosse, Wisconsin.

Gentlemen:

It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the 1912 CADILLAC CAR purchased from you has given most excellent satisfaction and service. During the nine months of last year, we drove 9,000 miles, doing considerable touring, encountering good and bad roads. During this time, we never removed a spark plug, or used a wrench on the motor, or any part of the car for tightening loose bolts, etc. We always had all the power we ever needed. The starting and electric light system proved all that was claimed for them and never failed to operate. It is a great pleasure for a driver to hop in, close the doors, switch on the starting current, and whirl away. Taking everything into consideration, I think the CADILLAC CAR cannot be recommended too highly. I consider it the best car on the market for the money.

THANKING YOU FOR YOUR WILLING AND EFFICIENT SERVICE RENDERED DURING 1912, I AM,

Yours respectfully,

F. N. FUNKE,
La Crosse, Wis.

SOME DON'T'S FOR THE AUTO OWNERS

D. H. Haselton of the Regal service organization, has devised a list of "Don'ts" for owners of new cars. The program he outlines is a simple one and those just beginning to operate a car will do well to heed his warnings.

The first "Don't" sounds a warning note to those drivers who are wont to overlook the necessity of supplies, Haselton heads his list with:

"Don't try to run without oil or water; it will only make business for the repair man."

Next follow the several cautions:

"Don't try to start without the switch turned on; it can't be done."

"Don't drive fast or try to stop quickly on a wet or slippery pavement."

"Don't neglect, in cold weather, to use an anti-freezing solution which is suitable for your particular locality; your radiator will freeze if you forget."

"Don't forget to release the emergency brake before attempting to start."

"Don't try to shift the gears with your clutch in."

"Don't try to break all the speed laws of your particular locality."

"Don't fail to keep your car properly lubricated."

"Don't let the car stand so that the tires rub or chafe against the curbing."

"Don't start your car with a jerk."

"Don't fail to examine your tires after each trip; it may prevent trouble on the next one."

"Don't forget to keep your rims free from dust and sharp edges."

"Don't use the casing after it is worn to the extent that it shows the canvas; have it re-treated to prolong its service. Put your repaired tires on the front wheel."

"Keep tires well pumped up according to information advanced by the maker."

"If tires begin to show wear on one side from running in ruts or other causes, it is a good plan to turn them around; in that way the life of the tire may be prolonged."

PUBLIC WISE AS MAKER IN VALUES

Motor Industry Has Become Staple Trade and One of Greatest in United States

With practically all the better known automobiles announced for next season, the motoring public has a very good idea of what to expect from every representative manufacturer in the industry. As a result of this early information thousands of motor cars are being sold without the various dealers along Automobile Row having the slightest idea of delivery dates. In other words, the different cars are selling themselves. That this is a condition and not a theory in the automobile business today is proved by the short selling season in which dealers must sell an estimated production of 600,000 motor cars for 1913.

The automobile and its value is just as much understood and appreciated by the automobile buying public as the clothing, furniture, real estate or anything else that they invest in. In the vernacular of the trade, the motorists of today are motor wise. For instance, a car owner can pick up a catalogue and turn to the specifications and know just as much about the machinery as the man who designed it. He will know every part by name as well as its relation to every other part and the result of each. It is for this reason that the automobile, in a major portion of cases, is actually sold when the prospective buyer enters the store. As a result sales come fast in the selling season because the buyers have decided on his car in the off season.

Virtual standardization of the pleasure types of cars several years ago and the wonderful advancement and development in efficiency and refinement are in particular the real reason for the rapid education of the automobile using public. Just as soon as the motor car demonstrated its practicability and developed beyond the top for the very rich, the general public took it more seriously and began to try to learn something about it. The result has been that the public has advanced with the advance of the automobile, until today they have both practically reached a state of perfection—the motor car having about reached its zenith and the owners having mastered its perplexities.

The automobile industry, in a little over a decade, has advanced from a small machine-shop into the fourth industry in the whole United States, and at a little more than ten years of age experts believe that it has reached the high-water mark of manufacturing perfection. That this forecast

BE CAREFUL OF YOUR OIL SUPPLY

Unless sufficient oil is used, the piston rings will cut the cylinder walls, causing a leak. It is apt to break the rings or score the surface of the cylinder. When the cylinder wall becomes scored there is no other treatment than to send them to the shop and have them re-bored.

When cylinders become scored and have to be re-bored it is necessary to fit new piston rings to insure proper compression. If the scoring is deep and the reboring increases the inside bore of the cylinder to any great extent, it will be necessary to have a new piston.

The auxiliary air valve must not be open when starting the motor. A combination of weak batteries and an open auxiliary air valve make the motor almost impossible to start.

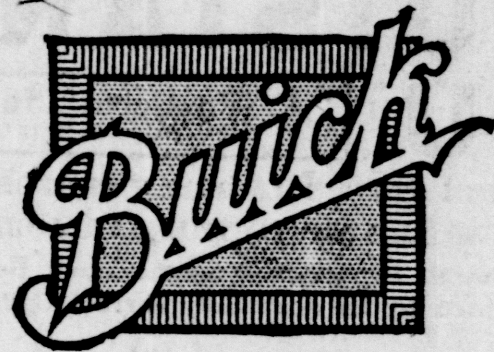

It is in a degree true is best proved by the manufacturers themselves. Practically all the pioneers have not in the last several years made a single material change in one year's car over another, and this year the only addition to the leading cars is a complete equipment and in some cases the adoption of some particular type of self-starter.

Acme of Perfection Reached

For the last three or four years automobile manufacturers have devoted all of their attention to the development of luxury, refinement and comfort for the user. Large spacious seating room, extravagant upholstery, highly polished painting and many other details of appointment are the chief features of the motor car of today. The lighting problem has been solved by the installation of an electric dynamo by which is generated electricity for lighting all of the outside lamps and at the same time furnishing the power for a 100 per cent efficiency self-starter. While the electric lighting system is several years old, it has only reached its highest degree of perfection this year.

Another important improvement this year, and one that will particularly interest the motorist, is increased baggage equipment. Almost every car, large or small, has provided for carrying extra baggage. More and more this equipment has become necessary because of the motorist's desire to tour through the country for week-end trips and very often cross-continent touring for three and four weeks at a time.

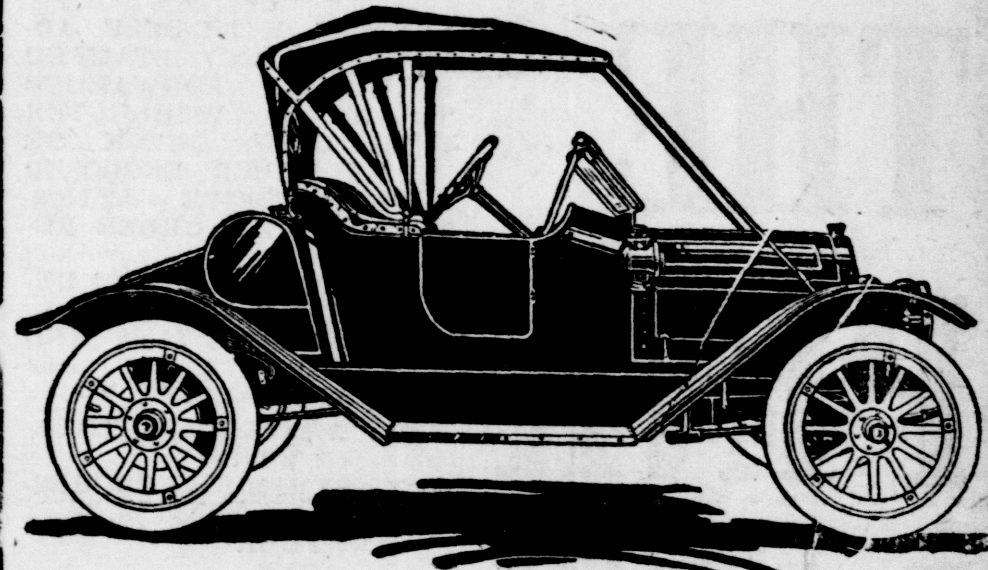

With the automobile affording the comfort of a drawing room and the reliability of a steam engine, it certainly looks as if the motor car has reached the acme of manufacturing efficiency and perfection.

AUTOS HERE TO STAY

MEDIUM PRICED MACHINE HAS BROUGHT THE INDUSTRY TO PRESENT FOOTING

Back in the days when I was selling buggies for a living down in Kansas, I looked on the automobile as an all-right plaything for those who had the money, but "pooh-poohed" the idea of any motive powered contraption ever taking the everyday place of the horse.

In my opinion, if there is one thing more than any other which has brought the industry to its present commercial footing, it is the advent of the medium priced car. There is no question but that general business conditions are better than they ever were in horse days.

There is more money made. There is more money spent. And one is as important as the other in any country's prosperity. I don't say it's a sound argument, but the man who has been so unwise as to mortgage his home for a motor car—unless he has needed the car in his business—has had his influence in the development of 1912 business.

Another thing which has been far-reaching in its effect is automobile advertising. In the early days the motor concerns made money easily and spent it easily. They began by paying high salaries. Advertising men, the best in the country, were attracted to the field. They asked big money and got it. It was then, or about then, that a real advertising era began.

Managers of other lines of business took notice of advertising of a class they had never seen before, and they began to notice, too, what enormous sales were being made in the trade. They began looking around for real advertising men for themselves. Men increased their advertising appropriations by the judicious handling of which they created new, and in some instances almost unbelievable demands for their goods.

Room for Good Roads
There are more automobiles made in the state of Michigan than in all the rest of the country taken together. I heard a man remark the other day that he guessed the reason Michigan made a better motor car than other states was because the roads were so bad they have to. And here is another thing which the automobile has had, a country benefiting influence. The time was when the farmer hated a "red devil" like a small boy does a bath. Today he is a buyer himself. Roads are pretty bad yet in some parts but the automobile has created a demand for better ones, and we're gradually beginning to get them.

The truck game generally has never opened up as it will in the next few years. Truck use means economy, moreover, which is bound to become popular. It is going to be the survival of the fittest among motor car manufacturers in just a few years, now, and we, for one, aren't feeling a bit faint yet.

Perseverance will win in the long run, and will often win a lot of things that are not worth the effort.

ADVANTAGE IS EVEN

MANY ADHERENTS OF RIGHT-HAND STEERING EMPLOY THE CENTER GEAR SHIFT

Many of the adherents of right-hand steering employ the center gear shaft. The advantages of the new type of control location are many, and the advocates of right-hand steer have just as many arguments to overshadow these.

This year but eighty-four chassis are equipped with left-hand steer, and center control, but when it is remembered that this is an enormous increase over the 1912 figure it seems that that form is taking a firm grip on the buying public. Another form, the right-hand steer with center control, is not as much in evidence as the other two types.

From all appearances the arguments in favor of this location of control parts are not strong enough to carry over a great number of buyers. Here again reference is made to the fact that the buyer has caused these changes in motor car construction, and it cannot be emphasized too much that it is the buying public that controls such changes.

Waistline Steadies Down
but Hobbles Get Tighter and There's a Slit Up
the Side

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Welcome back the prodigal waist. It is coming. After four years of aimless wandering from knee to neck and back again, with occasional lapses into non-existence, it is going to spend 1913 right where it ought to be—in the middle.

Thus say the fashion experts of the Chicago Garment Manufacturers' association, which is holding its semi-annual style review here, and showing this summer's program in gowns.

But all is not progressive there. They are still standing pat in or on the tight skirt—and the makers admit standing is about all that can be done in them. They are going to have the skirts so narrow and tight that along one side will be a narrow slit as far up as the knee. Then, when milady walks this will provide extension space.

Another complication enters in the matter of hose. These will have to be of the finest quality and have to match the gown. Then when milady walks—

All of which is not unmixed with good. It depends on the point of view.

"The next meeting of the Parents' and Teachers' association of the high school will be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 11, 1913. At this meeting the question of 'Efficiency of the Public Schools' will be presented as well as other matters of importance. The meeting will also give parents and teachers an opportunity to get acquainted, and to discuss matters of mutual interest. All parents having children in the high school are eligible to membership and should attend this meeting.
"Small annual dues of twenty-cents are charged, the money being used to provide a speaker for the last meeting of the year, which will be held in May. The dues may be paid to the treasurer, Mrs. C. B. Gesell, at the meeting, or any other convenient time.
"We hope to make this a record meeting from the standpoint of attendance. Let everyone come out."
"F. W. Sisson, Pres."

The committees appointed for the year by the president are as follows:

Reception—Miss Cora Desmond, Mrs. C. H. Schweizer, Mrs. C. H. Pierce, Miss Hallick, Mrs. Edw. Evans.
Program—Prof. Butler, Mrs. J. A. Westby, Mrs. W. S. Cargill, Mr. A. H. Sanford, Mr. G. A. Keller.
Finance—Mrs. C. B. Gesell, Mrs. W. H. Sanders, Mr. Theo. Kienahs, Mr. W. B. Horner, Dr. Mary Houck.

EMERY RE-APPOINTED

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—The name of J. Q. Emery, dairy and food commissioner, was sent to the senate by Gov. McGovern for confirmation Friday.

Emery's Record.

One evening when the German troops were before Paris Duke Ernst of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha began grumbling in Bismarck's presence because the iron cross of the first class, given for bravery in the field of battle, had been distributed too indiscriminately. Bismarck replied that the distribution of such decorations was always a delicate and difficult task. "For," said he, "conspicuous merit has to be rewarded, but in some cases conspicuous position, with or without merit, cannot be overlooked. See now," he said, "Moltke has it. Roon has it. Blumenthal has it. Excellent! But," he added, "your highness and I have it, too, and surely it is not for us to grumble!"

Past Salaries of Actors.

A number of autograph letters of Edmund Kean supply some interesting information about the salaries of actors early in the nineteenth century. One relates to an offer by Mr. Ellison offering Kean £3 a week as acting manager of the new theater in Wych street. Later this rose to £25 a month. In 1826 Kean was offered $12,000 a year to go to America. In the prime of his popularity he received £200 for a week in Edinburgh and apparently reached the highest point when Mr. Bunn wrote from the Theater Royal, Dublin, on Feb. 8, 1829, and offered him £50 a night to play in Dublin and Cork.—Liverpool Mercury.

The Roman Climate.

Gales are very rare in Rome and never blow with extreme violence. The most striking peculiarity of the Roman climate is the absence of high winds. The air is pure and clear, owing to the almost complete absence of smoke, even in the winter months. The average yearly movement of the air is only five miles an hour.

Heredity.

"What a bounding baby!"
"No wonder. Its pa is in the robes of majesty."—Baltimore American.

The man who marries an angel in disguise is apt to find the disguise both perfect and lasting.

HOLD BANQUET AT MASONIC TEMPLE

Winning Team in Y. W. C. A. Membership Campaign to Be Toasted and Feasted

The banquet commemorating the close of the membership campaign of the Young Women's Christian association will be held at the Masonic temple on Tuesday evening at 7:30.

This banquet is given in honor of the winning team in the campaign and of the incoming members, and all association members are urged to attend. A program of after dinner toasts has been arranged, Miss Amanda Clement, physical director of the Y. W. C. A., to act as toastmaster.

Miss Tirza Dinsdale, general secretary, today made it clear that all the members of the association are invited to attend the banquet, a misunderstanding having arisen as to who might be present, and she urges all members to be present on this occasion. "Please ask those desiring to attend to notify us at the association building tonight," said Miss Dinsdale, "so that we may know approximately the number who will be present and can make arrangements accordingly."

Not at All Unlike.

The old dorky's wife had been ill for some days. As the doctor came out of the cabin her husband said:

"Doctor—excuse me please, sah—but how is my old woman?"

"She is worse, Ben. She has not said a word for two hours."

"She ain't worse, doctor; she is daid!"—Uncle Remus' Magazine.

TAXICABS EVEN IN JAVA

Notwithstanding the "night hawk" taxi, it may almost be said that the sun never sets on the taxicab, so ubiquitous has the convenient auxiliary to civilized life become.

Two of the latest places to have taxicab services established are Batavia and Sourabaya in Java. The roads in Java are very good, and it is not surprising that motoring there is on the increase, as the planters and heads of business houses realize the advantages they obtain from the use of motor cars.

Several public services are in operation, notably between Cheribon and Indramajoe, as well as between Asaham and Dell.

SPOTLIGHTS

ROCKWELL'S "SUNNY SOUTH" CO.

The amusement loving public will be glad to hear that the J. C. Rockwell "Sunny South" company, the show that leaves you laughing when they say good night, will be the attraction at the La Crosse theater matinee and evening, tonight. This is a colored organization out of the ordinary, inasmuch as it is clean to a fault and during the entire performance there is not a line nor an action to which exception can be taken. It contains more real humor, wit, novelties and original ideas than any similar organization. The organization is accompanied by a solo concert band and a superb orchestra.

OLSON GOES TO NEW YORK ON BUYING TRIP

Evald J. Olson, manager of the Fred W. Kruse company store, left last night on a three weeks' buying trip in New York. Mr. Olson is accompanied by Fred W. Kruse, of Mankato, Minn., president of the Kruse company, who spent yesterday in this city looking over the stock in the local store. Mr. Olson will purchase a complete line of spring and summer women's ready-to-wear goods after studying the fashions and modes in America's metropolis. He expects to buy about $20,000 worth of goods for the season's trade and will have it on hand before the Easter opening.

Mount Athos.

There are 7,000 inhabitants of the sacred mount of Athos in Greece, but no women.

THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY FOR MEN AND WOMEN—That should appeal to every school teacher, minister, mechanic, store or office employee, business woman or club member. It is a chance to get into the farm home business in the right way with the right company. The men behind this organization do not ask you to invest any money with them nor to devote your entire time to their interests, but we will show you how by devoting part of your leisure time during the day or evening, you can earn from $200 to $400 per month, from the very start. No canvassing or soliciting required. It will be to your advantage to write at once for full details of this unique plan. REYNOLDS COUNTY COMPANY, 1412 Great Northern Bldg., Chicago, Ill. 2 8 11

I Wish to Lay this Proposition Before the Men of La Crosse who have an Interest in the Upbuilding of the City

Four blocks known as the Sawyer and Austin Mill Site, and fifty-one acres adjoining on the north, have been listed with me for sale. This property is located north of Gillette street, and is divided by Caledonia street. There are two railroads running through this tract of land, and street car within one block, making this an ideal factory site. This property can be bought for $20,000. One good factory located on this site will create a value for the remaining property, so that four blocks may be platted, and if sold at $300 per lot, will create a fund of $26,400, and there will still be 51 acres left for factory sites, which may be given free, as an inducement to any desirable factories.

Now Then

Are there 90 men who will join me and subscribe $200 apiece, or are there 199 men who will subscribe $100 apiece to carry out this proposition? Now understand, that this is not a money making proposition in itself, it is merely a city building plan. The idea being to give sites free as an inducement to factories to locate here. If any number of men think favorably of this proposition, they may subscribe for this fund with the understanding that they are not bound to pay their subscription unless an amount sufficient to carry out this plan has been subscribed, and are to hold interest in a lot to the amount of their subscription, and are to receive their money when the lots are sold. LET ME HEAR FROM YOU.

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The stock market opened fairly strong.

11 a. m.—Traders found plenty of stock for sale after the slight rise in Amalgamated and other issues shortly after the opening, but there was little activity during the whole of the second hour. The fact that pressure did not tend to bring out more stocks created a belief that the market was either liquidated or over-sold.

U. S. Rubber furnished the feature of the early trading, by selling up to 68, the highest figure it has ever reached.

The stock market closed dull.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—A stampede of shorts in the last hour of trading today caused a rapid rise in all grains, with wheat featuring. Weak cables and warm weather provided a favorable opening for the bears. May opened up 1/4c and gained 3/4c. July opened firm and rose 1/4c.

Corn started higher on the advance in Liverpool and gained strength toward the close. May and July gained 1/4c at the opening and added another 1/4c by noon.

Oats was the most consistent and strongest of the grains, rising steadily with the exception of a short downward fluctuation early in the day. May offerings opened up 1/4c and added 3/4c. July opened up 1/4c and gained another 3/4c.

Provisions moved in a narrow range, prices being slightly higher.

FOR UNIFORM LAWS

FEDERAL LEGISLATION IS SUGGESTED AS THE BEST SOLUTION OF MOTORIST PROBLEM

Among the greatest needs of the motoring interests of the country is uniform laws for the registration and regulation of motors. Uniformity in the end means nothing less than federal control and enactment of the laws, so the matter would be expedited most if it were considered immediately by congress.

All states have different speed laws, different penalties for violations, widely varying regulations in the matter of numbers, size, placing, lighting, etc., different rulings in the matter of the number and character of the lamps, different traffic regulations in cities, differences in signals to be sounded, amount of fee for registration, privileges which go with it, lengths of time for which each registration is valid, etc.

While this is the outcome of a most rapid growth, the industry today has reached a magnitude in number of cars and width of distribution to entitle it to more business like regulation. There is little possibility of the states getting together on this subject, or of one following another (at least not very far), so that the real solution of the difficulty lies with the enactment of federal laws and their enforcement by the government officials.

At present the fees from automobile and truck registration are used for good roads, after the expense of clerical work is subtracted. With the entry of the national government into good roads promulgation, the situation becomes clarified and its entry into the registration matter is made easier. It will mean simply that instead of some forty odd clerical offices handling this matter, one bureau at Washington will do it all; instead of many different fees in as many different states by the motorists who travel extensively, one fee will entitle them to go from ocean to ocean or gulf to the lakes. Obviously, while a secondary matter, the cause of good roads will advance faster under government supervision and the whole system show more homogeneity, while in the matter of fees paid in, the total left for road work will be very much greater, and the miles of improved highway built by the motorist's fees will be that much more. Federal registration and regulation of motor cars is not a fad nor a fancy; nor even a political catch-all device; it is a real, live important issue to every motorist in the land—and they will shortly number an even million.—Motor Car.

Strategy.

He (very shy)—Wh-what sized gloves do you wear, Miss Mabel?

She (instantly recognizing an opportunity)—Don't you mean what sized finger, Mr. Struthers?

On such slight pegs hang momentous happenings.

For he had the ring in his pocket all the time.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Thief Robs Mourner

NEW YORK.—While mourning over the body of his mother, George Halfgott was robbed of his pocket-book by pickpocket. Jacob Roick and Barney Rocco were arrested.

Rats Release From Rent Debt

NEW YORK.—The appellate division of the supreme court decided that Carl Bonwitt, who left his flat on account of rats, could not be compelled to pay his rent.

Wooden Leg Saves Babies

ULMERS, S. C., Feb. 8.—Carrying three parcel post packages—two babies and a wooden leg—Edgar F. Phillips, mail carrier, was attacked by a wildcat. He beat off the animal with the wooden leg.

Barbers Move to China

BRUSSELS.—A colony of Belgian barbers are on their way to Pekin, attracted by the statement of the Belgian legation that Chinese are evincing a desire for European hair cuts.

To Censor Lingerie Windows

LONDON.—The home office is considering the establishment of a show window censorship, owing to complaints of the alleged immodest displays of lingerie by Oxford street merchants.

Family's Total Age 774

GENEVA.—The canton of Schwyz boasts of a family of eleven brothers and sisters whose combined ages total 774 years; all of them are still vigorous.

Slap Prelude to Pinch

CHICAGO.—The house detective slapped the fat cook of the Hotel Blackstone on the stomach. The cook was fatter than usual. Under his shirt were a bacon, a dozen eggs and a pound of butter. He was arrested.

IMPERIAL FAMILY BUYS 5 CADILLACS

The Cadillac Motor Car company has sold to members of the Japanese Imperial household five 1913 Cadillac limousines, the transaction having been made by the company's Yokohama agents, Andrews & George. These will be the first American cars to go to the imperial household, as heretofore the members have used Italian, French, English and German makes. The sale is, therefore, rather significant and may be regarded broadly as a compliment to American industry in general, as well as to the Cadillac product in particular. The company's officials are being congratulated on the honor won for this country.

Two of the five limousines have been ordered by Prince Sanjo. Count Hijikata ordered one and Count Niji and Count Kanei one each.

STRUM IS STAR IN BASKETBALL BATTLE

The Athletics defeated the Red Socks last night at the Y. M. C. A.

in a basket ball game, 14 to 10. Strum made two field goals and one free throw. Hundredmark made one field goal. Hughes made two field goals and Enders one.

For the Red Socks Solie made two field goals and one free throw. The best work of the game was done by Strum.

The Giants beat the Cubs, 25 to 13.

Wonderful.

"What are you thinking about, darling?"

"Nothing."

"So was I. It's wonderful the sympathy between two loving hearts."—Fleegende Blatter
